Summary

Jacob is known by his friends and colleagues as a competitor. Whether it's sports or working for the family business, he strives to work hard and be a better version of himself every day. Doing things right plays a fundamental role for Jacob in and out of the workplace and no achievement matters more than holding himself to high standards of integrity. After working several years in sales Jacob decided to switch things up and began learning about Cybersecurity through the University of California Berkeley. He was instantly hooked and obtained a professional certificate in Information and Cybersecurity as well as the CompTIA Security+ certification. He's looking forward to making a difference stopping bad guys and protecting the world's information.
